Philosophy and approach: My approach to counseling is to use the strengths and past successes of clients to help them reach their therapeutic goals. My theoretical orientation is eclectic and draws its methods primarily from systems, solution-focused, and strength-based theories.

Education and Training: I have a Master of Science in Counseling/Marriage and Family Therapy from Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon. My undergraduate degree is a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Scripps College, which is part of the Claremont College Consortium.

Clinical Internship (605 hours)

- Portland Impact, Portland, Oregon
- SE Works, Portland, Oregon

Fees: I charge $75 for 50-minute sessions and $120 for 90-minute sessions.

As an associate member of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT), I abide by its code of ethics.

As the client of a Masters level counselor, you have the following rights:

- To expect that the counselor has met minimum qualifications of training and experience.
- To obtain a copy of the AAMFT Code of Ethics.
- To be informed of the cost of professional service before receiving the service.
- To be assumed of privacy and confidentiality while receiving services as defined by rule and law, including the following exceptions: 1) Reporting suspected child abuse; 2) Reporting imminent danger to client or others; 3) Reporting information required in court proceedings or by client's insurance company, or other relevant agencies; 4) Defending claims brought by client against licensee.
- To be free from being the object of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, gender, or other unlawful category while receiving services.
